Take customer service to the next level with Intelligent Business Rules

We know that incorrect order information can clog up your systems and cause delays in fulfilling your customer orders.

Now you can help ensure a seamless flow of orders through GHX Exchange Services and increase customer satisfaction, with Intelligent Business Rules from GHX.

This intuitive add-on solution uses advanced logic to pro-actively correct and enhance your order information, taking the pain out of processing poor quality data.

Intelligent Business Rules is available in three options, so you can choose the features that best suit your business.

Clearing
Improve accuracy and enrich your data with information mapping at item level, for more efficient clearing of transactions and parked orders.

Validation
Apply advanced logic and specific business rules to automatically identify and correct errors. Generate cleaner, better quality line item content and document formatting, helping to ensure your customers get the right product in the right quantity.

Advanced
Map and enrich electronic documents at an individual customer level, for more bespoke customer service. Transform the way you manage complex orders, such as consignment, bill only and drop-ship, with our most advanced, rule-based logic.
